

OVERNIGHT MOUNTINGS, INC

Liability Waiver for Setting Customer Stones

Overnight will not be held liable for lost or damaged stones in transit. Furthermore, Overnight will not be responsible to check the quality and grade of diamonds upon receipt from you, the retailer. It is the responsibility of the retailer to supply the correct amount of diamonds and to list the quality being sent for the job specified and have the diamonds properly fluted. Diamonds of different sizes should be shipped in one flute unless the job is for multiple quantities of same item, in which case, one flute per diamond size will be accepted.

Overnight does not accept dismounted diamonds that are not properly fluted and Overnight does not accept end consumer rings of any condition to match and remake. It is up to the retailer engaged in such transactions with end consumer to dismount their customer's diamonds, have them cleaned and then delivered to Overnight in flutes with total weight and sizes listed on the outside of the flute. The item selected for setting must also be listed somewhere on the flute as well as a detailed order with instructions including account #, item, color, karat and finger size.

Although we will do everything possible to provide superior service, inevitably there will be situations in which there will be a loss or breakage of stone(s). Loss of stone(s) or breakage of stone(s) once in the Overnight production department will not be covered for replacement by Overnight. It is the understanding of the jeweler that there is a possibility of loss or damage of stone(s) sent to Overnight during production. Should there be a need to replace a diamond(s), Overnight will convey the details of the loss or breakage to the contact named below, and arrange with said contact the scheduled shipping of a newly supplied stone(s) to complete the job.
